DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Drawings

2. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, in claim 7, the "synchronizer comprising a digital timer connected to a voltage controller" must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-2, 4, 12-13, 15, 17, 20 and 24-26 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Janssen, US 5,528,318 in view of applicant's admitted prior art.

In considering claims 1, 2-3 4, 15, 17 and 24-26

a) the claimed a plurality of pixels...is met by LCD 52 (Fig 1)/LCD panel 130 (Fig 7).

b) the claimed a light source located at a bottom or top of each column is met by light source 24 (Fig 1) and incoming white light as shown in Fig 7, where the light is converted into red, green and blue light via dichroic mirrors (12 Fig 1, 112/116/118 (Fig 7) and shines either the correction lenses (124, 126, 128) above or below it (Fig 7)

d) the claimed a synchronizer... is met by column/row drivers of light valve 20 (Fig 1, Fig 3).

However, Janssen does not disclose the use of FLC D lenses. Janssen discloses the use of correction lenses 124/126/128 (Fig 7).

The question of obviousness is the use of an FLC D lenses as a correction lens obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention.

The examiner relies on the applicant's own disclosure which discloses that the use of FLC D lenses are convention in the art.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify/utilize in Janssen which discloses a lenses to project red, green and blue on the panel and lenses above/below it, by utilizing a lenses such as the FLC D lens, in order to provide the designer the option of utilizing components which are readily available.

In considering claims 12-13 and 20,

Janssen does not explicitly recite eliminating or decreasing a number of speckles obtained from a light source by use of a frosted glass-like treatment and using a rear matte back coating to enhance the display contents.

However, the use of frosted glass treatment and rear matte back coating are notoriously well known in the use of enhancing displays, and thus the examiner takes "OFFICIAL NOTICE" in regards to such.

discloses a single panel color projection video display with improved scanning, by enhancing the display by using conventional frosted glass treatment and/or rear matte back coating in order to provide the viewer an enhanced display by corrected/eliminating received defects from the light source.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 5-11, 14, 16, 18, 19, and 21-23 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure—refer to newly cited references on attached PTO-892.

The tools currently available in the Patent EBC are Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) and the Electronic Filing System (EFS). PAIR (<http://pair.uspto.gov>) provides customers direct secure access to their own patent application status information, as well as to general patent information publicly available. EFS allows customers to electronically file patent application documents securely via the Internet. EFS is a system for submitting new utility patent applications and pre-grant publication submissions in electronic publication-ready form. EFS includes software to help customers prepare submissions in extensible Markup Language (XML) format and to assemble the various parts of the application as an electronic submission package. EFS also allows the submission of Computer Readable Format (CRF) sequence listings for pending biotechnology patent applications, which were filed in paper form.
